SENSATIONAL COMMUNICATIONS

210 SERIES

As work from home is becoming more and more popular, social-distancing gives rise to a huge demand in communication headset for audio/video conferencing. Accutone® understands the need for an advanced-grade headset designed for experienced user no longer looking for an inferior and unsatisfactory solution.

Series 210, is an upgraded version of the highly popular 101 Series for basic applications. Maintaining the brand-focus on superb audio performance from its speakers and noise-cancelling microphone, 210 places a lot of focus on comfort during extensive usage. On top of the same premium-grade leatherette ear cushion, beloved by users of the UB101, the UB210 further includes a same top-quality leatherette cushion for the headband. Together with its ultra-lightweight, users can wear the 210 headset all day without fatigue.

210 has two models: the analog model comes with a single 3.5mm plug for smartphones, tablets and notebooks; while the digital model comes with a driver-free, plug-and-play USB solution with in-line digital volume control, mute and LED indications.

Excellent performance for multimedia applications and noise-cancelling microphone for voice-conference, together with comfortable leatherette cushions in a lightweight yet strong built design, the 210 is simply sensational!
